Development of mining industry

668. SHRI N.R. GOVINDARAJAR: Will the Minister of MINES be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that consistent with Indian economy, the mining industry is also growing at rapid speed;

(b) whether it is also a fact that foreign technology is essential to generate 13-14 per cent mining growth required to meet the GDP of 9-10 per cent;

(c) if so, whether Government proposes to allow Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) for value added projects in power, steel and aluminium plants; and

(d) if not, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF MINES (DR T. SUBBARAMI REDDY): (a) to (d) As per index of industrial production maintained by the Central Statistical Organization the mining sector recorded a growth of 5.4% in the year 2006-07 as against a growth of 1% in 2005-06. Private investment, including Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) has been allowed into the mineral sector with the enunciation of National Mineral Policy in 1993, and further investment would attract State-of-art technology to generate higher growth in exploration and mining. FDI up to 100% under the automatic route is allowed for power (except atomic energy), Steel and Alumina Plants.
